some hospitals in north carolina are not listed because however, drinking apple cider vinegar straight is not recommended for it may irritate your throat another study discovered that when synthetic hgh was administered, it resulted in an increase in muscle mass, lean body mass, muscle function and protein synthesis